Born in Benin in 1996, Judicaël LALY is a renowned biostatistician with a passion for mathematics and science from a young age. His academic journey is remarkable: after earning a Bachelor's degree in Life and Earth Sciences and a first Master's degree in Biotechnology at UNSTIM, he completed his education with a second Master's degree in Biostatistics at the University of Abomey-Calavi (UAC). He is currently pursuing his PhD in Biometry at UAC. His great expertise in complex data analysis and his ability to present it clearly and effectively quickly set him apart. Throughout his career, he has collaborated with researchers and the company Green Tech Innovation SARL GTI, where his contributions have had a significant impact on the development of agricultural mobile applications. This experience also allowed him to acquire solid practical skills in web and mobile development, as well as in Artificial Intelligence.
